Dr. Thabes Toastmaster

Dr. J. A. Thabes, of Brainerd, acting as toastmaster, presented a very entertaining as well as instructive after-dinner program. The address of the evening was made by Dr. E. L. Tuohy of Duluth, president of the association, who spoke on the economic

of the medical profession, his subject being, "The Physician—His Family—The Community in Which He Lives."

Dr. Tuohy counseled the medical profession to use good judgment in finances during the few years of productive life. A physician spends a large part of his time acquiring an education, but forgets he has but a few years to provide for his family, and that he will not always be young.

Every member of the medical profession was advised to live within his income, to keep fit physically and mentally. Study should never be neglected. No doctor should ever be so "dead tired" that he cannot devote some hours to reading.

MASKED MAN ROBS STATION AGENT OF $55

(By United Press)

Sauk Center, Minn., Aug. 25.—A masked man early Monday robbed G. I. Dobbs Great Northern station agent of $55 and locked him in a boxcar.

Dobbs had just unloaded the express from a westbound train when the masked man with a gun in each hand ordered him into the ticket office to hand over the contents of the till. Dobbs was then locked in a boxcar nearby. Two young men who came down half an hour later to take a train east heard Dobbs' cries and released him.

NORTH DAKOTA CROPS ABOVE 1924 VALUE

A. K. BURR, SECRETARY OF FEDERAL LAND BANK, MAKES TOUR

"NORTH DAKOTA NOT COMING BACK, SHE HAS ARRIVED"

(By United Press)
St. Paul, Aug. 25.—The cash value of North Dakota crops this year will exceed that of 1924, according to A. K. Burr, secretary of the Federal Land Bank, who recently completed a 2,000 mile automobile tour of the state.

"North Dakota is not coming back—she has arrived," Burr said. "Everywhere I met optimism and the farmers are assured of an excellent crop."

Burr emphasized the fact that this year there has been practically no rust, no grasshoppers and but few weeds which some time cut down the yield in North Dakota. "Crops throughout the entire district covered with the exception of corn and late sown oats were found to be uniformly good," he said. "While the yield of wheat is somewhat impeded by reason of the hot week in mid July and the bushel return will not quite equal last year's crop, the quality is high and cash returns based upon what appears to be assured prices will exceed that of 1924."

Burr's trip took him from the Red River Valley in Eddy county through the two northern tiers of counties to the Montana line; thence 75 miles south; east to Minot and down to Carrington and Jamestown.

Georgia Drexler delighted her hearers with several soprano solos, her sister, Miss Effie Drexler, at the piano. Alfred Dillan, song leader of the Rotarians, lead the community singing at the banquet, which added much to the spirit of the occasion. The balance of the evening was enjoyed in dancing at the Breezy Point Athletic club.

Complimentary Luncheon

The Brainerd Medical profession was host to a complimentary luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce on Monday noon, having as guests all of the visiting physicians and their families. The New Brainerd Cafe furnished an excellent menu, which included the following:

Cream of Tomato Soup
Celery
Roast Pork
Mashed Potatoes, Brown Gravy
Cabbage Salad
Parker House Rolls
Ice Cream

The clinics held at the New Park Theatre were especially instructive. Dr. Russell Wilder, of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, conducted the clinic on diabetes, driving to Brainerd early Monday morning, and returning immediately after his lecture to keep an appointment at four o'clock that afternoon. A most hopeful attitude was expressed in this clinic. Some of the most distressing

TONG WARS BURST OUT IN MANY CITIES

DEATHS, ATTEMPTED MURDERS, ETC., ARE RECORDED

NARCOTIC SQUADS ARE DETAILLED TO MANY AREAS

(By United Press)
New York, Aug. 25.—Once more war of the tongs has blazed forth in New York's Chinatown.

Half an hour after a telephone message had reached the lantern-swing section last night that a Hip Sing man had been shot in Boston, Ho Kee, a cook, was shot to death in the basement of a restaurant.

A police cordon had been thrown about the tangled district and a score of detectives along with members of the narcotic squad have been detailed to the area.

LAUNDRYMAN KILLED IN PITTSBURGH TODAY

Pittsburgh, Aug. 25.—Resumption of the Chinese tong war here is blamed for the death of Shing Sun, 34, who was shot and killed by two nattily dressed Chinese in his laundry today.

Sun was a prominent member of the On Leong tong. His employee, Nug Tung, who is not a tong member, was not harmed.

The assailants rushed from the laundry, brandishing their revolvers and menacing persons who tried to stop them.

SITUATION IN CAPITAL QUIET

Washington, Aug. 25.—The tong situation of Washington was quiet today following execution of the raid Sunday night on the Hip Sing tong headquarters in which 48 arrests were made.

At first reported to have been ordered on suspicion of imminent hostility between factions of the tong, the raid was found to have resulted from complaints of two Hip Sing men to police that they were marked for death by members of their own fraternity.

TONG WAR FLAMES IN CHICAGO

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Tong warfare which broke out in several eastern cities over night reached Chicago early today. The city's Chinatown where the present feud between the On Leong and Hip Sing tongs is believed to have originated several weeks ago became suddenly quiet with reports from the east that several murders had been committed.

Shortly before dawn came the only real evidence of open feud when an unidentified Chinese was slain by a bullet from behind. His slayer was quickly captured as police had rushed reserves into the district several hours earlier.

BOSTON TRIES TO CHECK FIGHTING

Boston, Aug. 25.—Special policemen patrolled the deserted streets and alleys of Boston Chinatown today in an effort to check the tong war that broke out afresh during the night.

Two Chinese shot in a clash between the On Leongs and the Hip Sings were reported in a serious condition at a hospital here.

At least three other Chinese are believed to have been wounded and carried away by friends before the police intervened.

SPECIAL EXCURSION RATE IS ANNOUNCED FOR TRIP TO DULUTH

St. Paul, Aug. 25.—A special round trip excursion rate of $3 to Duluth and Superior from Minneapolis and St. Paul was announced today by the Great Northern railway, Soo line and Northern Pacific railway, to be effective this coming week-end.

The excursion tickets will be sold Aug. 29 for night trains only, returning only on night trains of Aug. 30. They will be good only in coaches and no baggage checking privileges are extended with the special rate.

Week-end traffic has been particularly heavy between the Twin Cities and Twin Ports this summer, the passenger departments of the railroads report, but they expect the largest traffic of the season on Aug. 29 and 30.

The $3 ticket represents the lowest excursion rate made for this trip in years.

ALLEGED MASHERS HELD FOR ATTACK ON H. C. WENZEL

COMMISSIONER ASSAULTED IN TRYING TO STOP FIGHT AT PHALEN PARK

OFFICIAL PROMISES DRASTIC ACTION TO FREE PARKS OF ROWDYISM

Mr. Wenzel and family are well known in Brainerd. During a large part of the summer they have occupied a cottage near the federal dam on Gull lake.

St. Paul, Aug. 25.—Three alleged "mashers" are held in jail today for an attack on Commissioner Herman C. Wenzel in Phalen park Sunday night.

Commissioner Wenzel suffered severe cuts and bruises about the face when he endeavored to stop a fight among five young men. Two of the men charged that the other three had insulted their young women companions.

Those held are John Mazion, 1093 Arcade st.; Joseph Krzyzaniak, 929 E. Magnolia st., and Frank Mamack, 890 E. Geranium st.

Several hundred persons witnessed the argument and the attack on Commissioner Wenzel. The latter was so severely cut about the lips that surgical attention at Ancker hospital was necessary.

Four stitches were taken in his lip.

Commissioner Wenzel said today that all three struck him and ran, with more than a score of men in pursuit, when he told one of the trio he was under arrest for disorderly conduct. The youths were not caught at the time.

Driving home half an hour later the commissioner saw Mazion standing on Arcade st.

Stationing Mrs. Wenzel in their car to watch for the arrival of a motorcycle patrolman who had been assigned to trail the youth the commissioner started after his quarry alone.

He made the arrest personally, and with little difficulty.

When the motorcycle patrolman drove up a few minutes later the young man was under arrest.

An interview between Commissioner Wenzel and the arrested youths is scheduled for this afternoon.

"Mashing in the parks must stop," Commissioner Wenzel said today. "I do not propose to have the city's play-places feared and shunned by those folks who really appreciate the advantages of beautiful recreation spots because of the actions of youthful rowdies."

"An example will be made of these youths."

BIDS OPENED ON 3 MILLION HIGHWAY WORK

PROJECTS INCLUDE 75 MILES OF CONCRETE PAVING

70 MILES OF GRADING, 32 MILES OF GRAVEL SURFACING

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Aug. 25.—Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner today opened bids on nearly $3,000,000 worth of highway improvement projects.

The projects include 75 miles of concrete paving; 70 miles of grading; 32 miles of gravel surfacing; 40 miles of shoulder building; 11 bridges covering draws, totalling 500 feet, and 400,000 feet of guard rail.

Preliminary estimates of highway department engineers placed the total of the projects at $2,823,000. A large number of bids were received on each of the projects, Commissioner Babcock said. It will be impossible to announce the apparently low bidders for several days.

Completion of an all-concrete highway between the Twin Cities and Duluth is included in the project. Bids opened today include 20 miles of paving on Highway No. 1 and bids will be called for later to complete the highway.

Paving will be completed to Brainerd next year. Bids were opened on 25½ miles of concrete paving from Belle Prairie to Brainerd which will complete the paving on highway No. 27. The highway department prefers that this paving be completed next year, but it is possible the winning contractor may start the work this fall if weather is favorable and run the paving from Belle Prairie to the Morrison county line.

Paving on highway No. 5 from Shakopee to Jordan is included in the projects on which bids were opened. Bids will be asked later on other projects for next year, it was announced.

Established Tradition Wrecked at University

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 26.—Hard lines of improvement are wrecking an established tradition at the University of Minnesota, leaving not even a stone with which grads may refresh memories of "riverbank" dates.

The carved initials—linking hearts—scribbled names adorning the walls of the campus postoffice, have been cast into heaps of mortar, kindling and old bricks.

Soon in its stead, undergraduates will tramp through the halls of a modern classroom for accounting and typewriting. The little wooden boxes into which it is estimated more than 8,000,000 sweet missives of school days have been thrust—have been consigned to the dust heap, after giving service for twelve years.

New quarters for the postoffice have been established on the ground floor of the administration building where 10,000 metal boxes have been installed for operation under a government postal station contract.

Farm Paper Editors in St. Paul Enroute to Canada

GASOLINE PRICES DROP 2 CENTS A GALLON IN ST. PAUL

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Aug. 25.—Gasoline prices dropped two cents a gallon here today.

Following the rate of Standard Oil of Indiana, independent dealers met the price of 22.4 cents a gallon. All summer local filling station prices have been 24.4 cents for low test gasoline.

In South Dakota where the state established filling stations and cut prices gasoline is now selling for 20 cents.

The price war which started almost simultaneously in South Dakota and Illinois has spread over the northwest. Further clashes are anticipated in some quarters.

BERRY PICKERS CHARGED WITH STARTING FIRES

SIX FOREST FIRES IN 19TH DISTRICT NEAR DULUTH

WOODS ARE DRY AS KINDER, RAIN IS MUCH NEEDED

(By United Press)

Duluth, Aug. 25.—Six forest fires believed to have been started by berry pickers are raging in the 19th district, according to C. S. Lind, state forester.

Two of the fires are in the vicinity of Caribou Lake and are burning over an area of 50 acres. Crews are working on them.

Another crew is fighting down a small fire at Mile Post 2 on the Miller Trunk Highway. Three other fires are reported in the vicinity of Pike Lake.

The woods are dry as tinder and unless rain falls soon a large number of fires may be expected, forest-ers said.

SPORTSMEN TO VOICE OBJECTIONS

(By United Press)

Virginia, Minn., Aug. 25.—Officials and members of sportsmen's organizations from all sections of the Arrowhead country are expected to voice protests late today against the Minnesota-Ontario boundary water development plans. The meeting has been called by the St. Louis county club.

The proposed plans call for the construction of dams on all of the lakes along the boundary for the development of water power. This action would raise the water levels, flooding timber and shore properties and seriously damaging the recreational advantages of the district.

The international joint commission will conduct a hearing on the proposed project Sept. 28, at International Falls.

HEADS PARTY OF CHICAGO BIG CAPITALISTS

TAKES OPTION, REPORTED, ON ROCKY POINT RESORT

ALSO SOME 400 ACRES OF LAKE SHORE ADJOINING

According to authentic reports current in the city, a group of wealthy Chicago men have taken an option on Rocky Point resort, on the west shores of Gull lake, owned by C. E. Anderson, together with 400 acres of lake shore adjoining.

While the report could not be confirmed, it is said that William Wrigley, Jr., chewing gum king, is one of the Chicago party taking this option. What the terms of the option may be, or the length of time it is to run, were not available.

A number of rumors are current as to the use to which Rocky Point will be put, if purchased by the Chicago men. Some believe that it will be converted into a large summer resort on the order of Breezy Point on Big Pelican lake, while others contend that it will be used as the summer home of Mr. Wrigley.

Rocky Point resort is ideally located for either purpose. It stands out on a prominent point on Gull lake, amid beautiful surroundings, and has always been quite popular with summer tourists. Probably its only disadvantage is the fact that it is not close to Brainerd by automobile road, but this could be overcome by operating a boat line to the east shore of Gull lake where it is skirted by Trunk Highway No. 19.

Out in California Mr. Wrigley converted Catalina Islands, bare, sandy and rocky, into one of the show places of the world where he, like Capt. Billy Fawcett at Breezy Point, entertained the California State Association of Elks.

As stated by J. G. Dawes, the difficulty of securing the options as negotiated by Wrigley's agent hinged on acquiring additional land so as to get an acreage of 800 acres. The eventual purchase price, it is claimed, is between $50,000 and $60,000.

Cottages are to be built for fifty Chicago millionaires, says Mr. Dawes. According to our idea that may transplant the whole Chicago "Gold Coast" to the Brainerd Lake Region.

Cure for Hyphenated Americans Advanced

Rochester, Minn., Aug. 25.—Joseph Devlin, a local business man who returned this week from a trip to Ireland, after 45 years' absence, asserted that not until an American born in a foreign country returns to his native land for careful observation and analysis of conditions is he the real American that he is bound to be after such a pilgrimage.

"I was born in Ireland," said Mr. Devlin, "coming to America when a young man. I have always thought I was a real American citizen, but I never knew just how much I am one until I saw the Statue of Liberty through the mists of the sea on our return to New York. Then I realized what a privilege it is to be an American with an undivided affection."

"If all our citizens who came from foreign shores would but go back to the old country for a visit, look well about them, and then return, they would have no doubt in their own minds as to just where they stand. There would be no divided feeling for this country and there would be no such thing as a hyphenated American."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Duluth, Aug. 25.—Six forest fires believed to have been started by berry pickers are raging in the 19th district, according to C. S. Lind, state forester.

Two of the fires are in the vicinity of Caribou Lake and are burning over an area of 50 acres. Crews are working on them.

Another crew is fighting down a small fire at Mile Post 2 on the Miller Trunk Highway. Three other fires are reported in the vicinity of Pike Lake.

The woods are dry as tinder and unless rain falls soon a large number of fires may be expected, foresters said.

SPORTSMEN TO VOICE OBJECTIONS

(By United Press)

Virginia, Minn., Aug. 25.—Officials and members of sportsmen's organizations from all sections of the Arrowhead country are expected to voice protests late today against the Minnesota-Ontario boundary water development plans. The meeting has been called by the St. Louis county club.

The proposed plans call for the construction of dams on all of the lakes along the boundary for the development of water power. This action would raise the water levels, flooding timber and shore properties and seriously damaging the recreational advantages of the district.

The international joint commission will conduct a hearing on the proposed project Sept. 28, at International Falls.

HEADS PARTY OF CHICAGO BIG CAPITALISTS

TAKES OPTION, REPORTED, ON ROCKY POINT RESORT

ALSO SOME 400 ACRES OF LAKE SHORE ADJOINING

According to authentic reports current in the city, a group of wealthy Chicago men have taken an option on Rocky Point resort, on the west shores of Gull lake, owned by C. E. Anderson, together with 400 acres of lake shore adjoining.

While the report could not be confirmed, it is said that William Wrigley, Jr., chewing gum king, is one of the Chicago party taking this option. What the terms of the option may be, or the length of time it is to run, were not available.

A number of rumors are current as to the use to which Rocky Point will be put, if purchased by the Chicago men. Some believe that it will be converted into a large summer resort on the order of Breezy Point on Big Pelican lake, while others contend that it will be used as the summer home of Mr. Wrigley.

Rocky Point resort is ideally located for either purpose. It stands out on a prominent point on Gull lake, amid beautiful surroundings, and has always been quite popular with summer tourists. Probably its only disadvantage is the fact that it is not close to Brainerd by automobile road, but this could be overcome by operating a boat line to the east shore of Gull lake where it is skirted by Trunk Highway No. 19.

Out in California Mr. Wrigley converted Catalina Islands, bare, sandy and rocky, into one of the show places of the world where he, like Capt. Billy Fawcett at Breezy Point, entertained the California State Association of Elks.

As stated by J. G. Dawes, the difficulty of securing the options as negotiated by Wrigley's agent hinged on acquiring additional land so as to get an acreage of 800 acres. The eventual purchase price, it is claimed, is between $50,000 and $60,000.

Cottages are to be built for fifty Chicago millionaires, says Mr. Dawes. According to our idea that may transpire, the whole Chicago "Gold Coast" to the Brainerd Lake Region.

Cure for Hyphenated Americans Advanced

Rochester, Minn., Aug. 25.—Joseph Devlin, a local business man who returned this week from a trip to Ireland, after 45 years' absence, asserted that not until an American born in a foreign country returns to his native land for careful observation and analysis of conditions is he the real American that he is bound to be after such a pilgrimage.

"I was born in Ireland," said Mr. Devlin, "coming to America when a young man. I have always thought I was a real American citizen, but I never knew just how much I am one until I saw the Statue of Liberty through the mists of the sea on our return to New York. Then I realized what a privilege it is to be an American with an undivided affection."

"If all our citizens who came from foreign shores would but go back to the old country for a visit, look well about them, and then return, they would have no doubt in their own minds as to just where they stand. There would be no divided feeling for this country and there would be no such thing as a hyphenated American."—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

NEGOTIATIONS WITH FRANCE, ITALY TO PAY WAR DEBTS

(By United Press)
Swampscott, Mass., Aug. 25.—American negotiations with France, Italy and other countries for the funding of their debts of more than $6,000,000,000 to this country will be based upon the capacity of the debtor nations to pay what they owe. The settlement of the Belgian debt of $480,000,000 will not be considered as a standard for the settlement of the other debts in the negotiations with other European countries next month. Belgium particularly deserved and received the sympathy of the American government and people President Coolidge feels, and it was the fact that that country was caught between the great warring powers which caused the president to approve the terms which were as generous as possible.

This is the way one young fellow puts it. "I can't spend money when it's in the bank," he says.

He has learned that loose change in the pocket has a habit of dissolving—disappearing—slipping away mysteriously. And the hole through which it slips is at the top.

No, it isn't human nature to hang onto a loose dollar when it is continually calling on you to spend it. The safest way is to put that dollar in a savings account and then tell yourself it is gone. Forget it entirely.

Then some bright morning you'll wake up to find yourself in possession of a nice big bank account.

cases are yielding to the treatment of insulin and the patients have been brought back to productivity.

Dr. J. A. Evert, former Brainerd physician, now a member of the staff at the Northern Pacific hospital, St. Paul, came to the city especially to conduct the clinic on fractures, returning to St. Paul immediately after his portion of the program, because of professional duties there. A popular subject was Dr. Roy A. Barlow's paper on the management of sinusitis in children, involving head colds and the clearing up of the nasal fountains.

Election of Officers

Dr. O. J. Hazen, of Moorhead, was elected president of the Northern Minnesota Medical Association and Crookston was selected as the next meeting place for the 1925 convention, at the business meeting of that organization which followed the noon luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce today. Fergus Falls and Thief River Falls also presented invitations for the next convention. Following is the list of newly elected officers:

President—Dr. O. J. Hazen, Moorhead.

Vice President—Dr. O. V. Johnson, Sebeka.

Secretary-Treasurer — Dr. F. J. Hirschboeck, Duluth.

Censor—Dr. W. W. Will, Bertha.

Dr. Herman Johnson, president of the Minnesota State Medical society gave a short talk, announcing the coming meeting of that association, and brought greetings from the body which he represents.

Dr. Charles Hensel, of St. Paul announced the post graduate medical conference to be held in his city October 12th to 16th, which is to be addressed by many prominent physicians.

Several very interesting exhibits of physicians accessories and supplies are on display at the Chamber of Commerce. One is a very complete line of fracture appliances manufactured by the DePuy Manufacturing Co., of Warsaw, Indiana. Others included X-Ray equipment by Wrappier Electric Co., of Long Island City, N. Y., surgical accessories by Noyes Brothers and Cutler, of St. Paul.

At the luncheon in the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday noon, the short business session of the association was conducted. The committee on resolutions, composed of Dr. O. J. Hazen, chairman, Dr. J. G. Millspaugh and Dr. M. A. Shillington, drafted suitable articles which were adopted by the meeting, in which the thanks of the association were extended to the citizens of Brainerd, the Chamber of Commerce for its cooperation, and to the members of the medical profession and their wives for the interest taken in the convention. A vote of appreciation was given Dr. Tuohy for his splendid work as president, and Dr. W. W.

YANKEE WOMEN SPRUCE UP MEN, CLOTHIER SAYS

Chicago, Aug. 25.—American women are making their husbands and sweethearts the best dressed men in the world, F. E. Bigelow of Seattle, Wash., president of the National Association of Retail Clothiers, declared here today at the opening of the association's annual convention.

"American men have become inoculated with the germ of dress consciousness," said Bigelow, who does not wear balloon pants.

"Our women folk have been largely responsible for this change. It is they who have awakened men to the realization that well-dressed men get farther in love and business than those who are careless.

"Nowadays when men come into retail stores to buy suits and overcoats they almost invariably bring their wives or sweethearts, because in most cases the wives and sweethearts know what looks well when the men do not."

Bigelow declined to make any forecast relative to impending changes in men's styles, but ventured to say that they probably will be more conservative.

"We have very little to do with styles proper," said the president. "The tailors make the styles and we sell them."

DEAUVILLE CASINO SHORTENS DANCING TO AID GAMBLING

Deauville, Aug. 25.—Although the season is now in full swing, with hotels and villas crowded, the annual orgy of heavy gambling has been slow in getting underway. The stage directors are worried, and taking subtle steps to liven things up around the tables.

For all the world's a stage, and men and women merely players, even at this gay resort where the men and women are among the chosen from four corners of the world who possess wealth, or social position, or something that admits them to the inner shrine of fashion's fantasies. Titles and jewels and checkbooks notwithstanding, the players strut as they are told.

The gaming rooms proper open at midnight, and here the elite dine late. The Casino restaurant is always gay, with much fancy food and mesmerizing music by an American jazz band. The popularity of the restaurant, with its alluring dancing has been such that the tables in the other wing have often been neglected.

But a mysterious system has been detected for the shifting of the scenes. Suddenly the waiters speed up remarkably and serve patrons with great gusto, bringing coffee before the sweet is tasted, and the bill before the liquors are raised. Simultaneously the orchestra men feel the need of a breath of air and a smoke, and so the dancing lags. Naturally there is nothing to do but stroll into the Casino and have a fling.

Even the post-midnight supper seance has at times been curtailed for the benefit of the tables with the result that players once bitten, much shy, buy more chips and stay on to retrieve their losses. This system has greatly bucked up the playing.

MURDERER WAS IN OTHERS AFFAIRS

POLICE SAY PAUL POLLINGRINI WAS IN TWO OTHER AFFAIRS

(By United Press)
Hibbing, Aug. 25.—Paul Pollingrini, 40, who shot and killed Mrs. Maggie Binelli and then killed himself late Monday had been mixed up in two other affrays, police said today. He was acquitted after wounding a miner at Nashauk some time ago and later slashed another man with a knife. Mrs. Binelli, mother of four children, was shot to death by Pollingrini at Kitzville near here. He then killed himself. Police found no motive. Pollingrini was said to have acted queerly for some time.

Many of these shoes are ornamented with delightful little hand-painted designs, such as a white cat on the colored kid tab.

THE STUDY OF MENTAL DISEASES

IN the record of clinics held by the Northern Minnesota Medical Association we see everything stressed from colds in the head to fractures, from the insulin treatment of diabetes to skin diseases, but not a word regarding the treatment of mental diseases.

That is one domain in which medicine and surgery have made few if any advancements. But little has been accomplished in the treatment of nervous breakdowns. Take the average person, suffering with mental disease, the sanitarium or state institution merely confines them and let's nature take its course.

The effect of the brain on disease has been noted by many people. How often do you see the patient who will not consent to treatment or operation unless the doctor holding his confidence is engaged.

Every nurse knows the critical point in any siege of disease, when doctor and nurse have done everything possible and the final pull rests with the patient himself. Irvin Cobb has well described all the sensations in an account of the operation performed, when he was the patient noting every phase of his mental receptivity. Came 2 to 4 o'clock in the morning, the zero hour of resistance and things grew black and Cobb knew he was slipping. It was only by summoning all his powers of resistance, by constantly repeating, "I want to live," that he evaded shooting over the dead line and "came back" in the morning, able to hear the nurse say, "Yes, he's better and will pull through."

Yes, the stomach has been examined and repaired. Appendicitis is a common malady. Cancer may soon be cured. Smallpox is no longer dreaded. Tuberculosis is being checked. But mental diseases still remain in the twilight zone, subject to the incursion of a few scouting parties, but generally unknown and unexplored.

The brain may be regarded as the master head at the switchboard. It cannot function well if any section of that switchboard, or any part of the equipment gets out of order. Sometimes it may mean the correction of but a small detail, but any one can see that it takes an A No. 1 switchboard or an A No. 1 physical body, to produce the most lasting mentality.

BRAINERD, A CONVENTION CITY

FOLLOWING the invasion of twin city passenger agents, when the Lions club took them for a tour of the Brainerd Lake Region, came the state convention of the Elks. Brainerd rose to the peak end in its entertainment possibilities and favorable comments have been heard on all sides of the way the city and lodge acted as a host.

This Monday and Tuesday the Northern Minnesota Medical Association convened here and the corps of local doctors and their wives have fused into a host of entertainers. Their program included Brainerd and the lakes, with banquet and luncheons interspersed. All these conventions have gained new information about our resources and especially of our wonderful lake region.

All these agencies, striving to get people interested and enthused in our recreational features, are benefiting every man, woman and child in Brainerd and the Lake Region. THE DISPATCH wishes to thank every member of these various entertainment committees.

LOSING TRAINS

ON Sunday, August 30, Brainerd is to lose several trains on the Lake Superior division of the Northern Pacific. This comes as a result of bus competition and because the railway company cannot be expected to continue service when it is losing money.

The new schedule gives us faster trains. When the Northern Pacific took off a certain Cloquet train, it announced at the hearing of the railroad and warehouse commission that trains such as this Cloquet example, cannot be continued if they are certain losing ventures.

"Pulling off" trains on any division has its effect, indirectly, on Brainerd. It means less repair work at the shops and the losses of train crews, which in turn "bump" their way all along the line, the youngest in service giving way to those older in line.

TONG WARFARE RAGING

THE Chinatowns in various large cities are a sealed book to the ordinary cities. The tong warfare is a relic of the feudal days in China and likes and dislikes of the old country are brought to America, here to flourish and to break out in disastrous warfare.

That war should break out in five or more large cities of the nation, shows the tongs must be related and to have connecting links. It is an evidence of the fact that racial instincts not Americanized cause us a lot of trouble, and that the average Chinaman should remember he is here as a guest and that Uncle Sam cannot stand or tolerate constant warfare among Chinamen as visualized in tong battles.

THE town has an air of business and prosperity, its well kept lawns and homes and other things all contribute to make a most favorable impression on any visitor.

As a reminder to the city, turn on all the street lights during convention time. A twilight city does not enthrall visitors.

ACCORDING to Frank Day, editor of the Fairmont Sentinel, Minnesota lakes are worth a million dollars each.

PLAYS which the critics sometimes praise fail as money-makers at the box office.

WE'VE had synthetic cow's milk, synthetic gin and now we are to get synthetic gasoline.

BRAINERD is looking its prettiest during our convention season.

In addition, no child of less than twelve years can be employed in any kind of labor outside his own family, and none can be employed between the ages of twelve and fourteen, without special permission showing that such employment is necessary to his own support or that of his parents or brothers and sisters.

A long list of occupations classified as hazardous or unwholesome is barred entirely to minors of less than 18 years, and in case of accident to a minor in any such forbidden work the law holds that the employer shall be considered wholly responsible for the accident.

Women are not to be employed more than eight hours daily or forty-eight hours weekly, except in domestic service.

All women employees who are mothers are given certain privileges for the care of their children and every establishment employing women must provide for the care of children of less than two years during the hours of the employment of the mothers.

In the case of an employed prospective mother the employer must allow her to leave her employment, reserving her position for her, six weeks before the birth is due.

All employers of minors must keep a special register showing the hours of work, the salary, the age, and the number of the special document granted to the minor by the civil registry setting forth his right to work, including a record of his schooling.

THE STUDY OF MENTAL DISEASES

In the record of clinics held by the Northern Minnesota Medical Association we see everything stressed from colds in the head to fractures, from the insulin treatment of diabetes to skin diseases, but not a word regarding the treatment of mental diseases.

That is one domain in which medicine and surgery have made few if any advancements. But little has been accomplished in the treatment of nervous breakdowns. Take the average person, suffering with mental disease, the sanitarium or state institution merely confines them and let's nature take its course.

The effect of the brain on disease has been noted by many people. How often do you see the patient who will not consent to treatment or operation unless the doctor holding his confidence is engaged.

Every nurse knows the critical point in any siege of disease, when doctor and nurse have done everything possible and the final pull rests with the patient himself. Irvin Cobb has well described all the sensations in an account of the operation performed, when he was the patient noting every phase of his mental receptivity. Came 2 to 4 o'clock in the morning, the zero hour of resistance and things grew black and Cobb knew he was slipping. It was only by summoning all his powers of resistance, by constantly repeating, "I want to live," that he evaded shooting over the dead line and "came back" in the morning, able to hear the nurse say, "Yes, he's better and will pull through."

Yes, the stomach has been examined and repaired. Appendicitis is a common malady. Cancer may soon be cured. Smallpox is no longer dreaded. Tuberculosis is being checked. But mental diseases still remain in the twilight zone, subject to the incursion of a few scouting parties, but generally unknown and unexplored.

The brain may be regarded as the master head at the switchboard. It cannot function well if any section of that switchboard, or any part of the equipment gets out of order. Sometimes it may mean the correction of but a small detail, but any one can see that it takes an A No. 1 switchboard or an A No. 1 physical body, to produce the most lasting mentality.

BRAINERD, A CONVENTION CITY

FOLLOWING the invasion of twin city passenger agents, when the Lions club took them for a tour of the Brainerd Lake Region, came the state convention of the Elks. Brainerd rose to the peak end in its entertainment possibilities and favorable comments have been heard on all sides of the way the city and lodge acted as a host.

This Monday and Tuesday the Northern Minnesota Medical Association convened here and the corps of local doctors and their wives have fused into a host of entertainers. Their program included Brainerd and the lakes, with banquet and luncheons interspersed. All these conventions have gained new information about our resources and especially of our wonderful lake region.

All these agencies, striving to get people interested and enthused in our recreational features, are benefiting every man, woman and child in Brainerd and the Lake Region. THE DISPATCH wishes to thank every member of these various entertainment committees.

LOSING TRAINS

ON Sunday, August 30, Brainerd is to lose several trains on the Lake Superior division of the Northern Pacific. This comes as a result of bus competition and because the railway company cannot be expected to continue service when it is losing money.

The new schedule gives us faster trains. When the Northern Pacific took off a certain Cloquet train, it announced at the hearing of the railroad and warehouse commission that trains such as this Cloquet example, cannot be continued if they are certain losing ventures.

"Pulling off" trains on any division has its effect, indirectly, on Brainerd. It means less repair work at the shops and the losses of train crews, which in turn "bump" their way all along the line, the youngest in service giving way to those older in line.

TONG WARFARE RAGING

THE Chinatowns in various large cities are a sealed book to the ordinary cities. The tong warfare is a relic of the feudal days in China and likes and dislikes of the old country are brought to America, here to flourish and to break out in disastrous warfare.

That war should break out in five or more large cities of the nation, shows the tongs must be related and to have connecting links. It is an evidence of the fact that racial instincts not Americanized cause us a lot of trouble, and that the average Chinaman should remember he is here as a guest and that Uncle Sam cannot stand or tolerate constant warfare among Chinamen as visualized in tong battles.

THE town has an air of business and prosperity, its well kept lawns and homes and other things all contribute to make a most favorable impression on any visitor.

As a reminder to the city, turn on all the street lights during convention time. A twilight city does not enthrall visitors.

ACCORDING to Frank Day, editor of the Fairmont Sentinel, Minnesota lakes are worth a million dollars each.

PLAYS which the critics sometimes praise fail as money-makers at the box office.

WE'VE had synthetic cow's milk, synthetic gin and now we are to get synthetic gasoline.

BRAINERD is looking its prettiest during our convention season.

Evolution Theory Reaches Flowers, Hybridizer of Gladioli Being Expelled by Church Elders

A. L. Kundred, expert in hybridizing gladioli, has been expelled from his church at Goshen, Ind., because the elders of the church maintained that "If The Almighty had wanted the gladioli hybridized he would have made them that way." Kundred, who excels in the grafting of bulbs, has a 12-acre garden valued at $250,000.

Buenos Aires, Aug. 25.—Protection for employed mothers, prospective mothers, other women workers and children is provided in a sweeping national law which has just gone into effect.

The bill provides that no minor can be employed in either domestic, industrial, commercial or rural work unless he has first completed the minimum of schooling required by law. In addition, no child of less than twelve years can be employed in any kind of labor outside his own family, and none can be employed between the ages of twelve and fourteen without special permission showing that such employment is necessary to his own support or that of his parents or brothers and sisters.

Between the ages of fourteen and eighteen no child can be employed more than six hours daily or thirty-six hours weekly, nor later than eight o'clock at night nor earlier than seven o'clock in the morning in the winter and six in the summer. No minor can be employed in public places nor on the streets, exception being made only in the case of theatrical companies where minors of more than sixteen years can be employed under certain conditions.

A long list of occupations classed as hazardous or arduous is barred entirely to minors of less than 18 years, and in case of accident to a minor in any such forbidden work the law holds that the employer shall be considered wholly responsible for the accident.

Women are not to be employed more than eight hours daily or forty-eight hours weekly, except in domestic service.

All women employees who are mothers are given certain privileges for the care of their children and every establishment employing women must provide for the care of children of less than two years during the hours of the employment of the mothers.

In the case of an employed prospective mother the employer must allow her to leave her employment, reserving her position for her, six weeks before the birth is due.

All employers of minors must keep a special register showing the hours of work, the salary, the age, and the number of the special document granted to the minor by the civil registry setting forth his right to work, including a record of his schooling.

Bishop George Berkeley, celebrated for his writings on philosophy, had one great enthusiasm—tar water, which he recommended as a universal remedy. In 1744 he published a book setting forth its value.

Five railways carried the estimated 10,000 from nearby states and points in Minnesota. Of the total, 1,090 arrived early Saturday from Chicago on the Great Western to remain until Sunday night.

3,000 on St. Paul Road

The St. Paul Road brought about 3,000 passengers, of whom 1,900 arrived early Sunday from Chicago. The other 2,000 were visitors from Milwaukee, Columbus, Oconomowoc and Portage, Wis., Mohrville, Big Stone City and Madison, S. D., White Rock, Minn., and Edgeley, N. D.

Between 1,200 and 1,500 guests from Chicago, Janesville, Madison, Kenosha and Racine, Wis., and an additional 2,000 from Rice Lake and Marshfield, Wis., and Worthington, Minn., and intermediate points, were carried by the Chicago & Northwestern.

Winnipeg Visitors Back Today

About 1,000 Chicagoans came on the Burlington road and 250 persons from Minnesota and nearby states were brought by the Minneapolis & St. Louis. Excursionists from McIntire, Iowa, Spring Valley, Stewartville, Pine Island and Red Wing, Minn., arrived at noon Saturday with privileges to return Monday. An other excursion on the same road was between Rochester and the Twin Cities.

Travelers on the first international excursions from the Twin Cities, which left Friday night for Winnipeg on the Great Northern and Soo Line railways, will be back this morning.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

How Hat Makes or Mars Appearance of a Woman

The hat—large, small and otherwise—has the power, as the woman knows, to make or mar the entire appearance of the woman; and so it is that the choosing of hats is a science, unwritten, to be sure, that all women recognize and clever women learn and practice.

Complexion, eyes and hair are pleasantly or unpleasantly affected by the color of the hat or its trimming, and the placement of a hat is much more than the trifling incident we usually make of it.

Always stand before a mirror, the larger the better, when adjusting a hat; and, if possible, be sure to use a hand mirror to determine actually the right angle of the hat at back and sides as well as at the front.

Hats, for a long time past, have been worn low or well down on the head, so correct head size is a detail of real importance; and it is hard to say which is the most unfortunate, a head size too large or one too small, when really both are as undesirable as they are unnecessary, if you will choose your hat with care.

It may seem silly and worse to a hard-headed practical man who carelessly jams his hat down on his head and as thoughtlessly removes it to see a woman's painstaking adjustment of a hat; but whether this same man will admit it or not, the appearance of a woman whose hat is right and on right is greatly enhanced. This woman will strike him more pleasantly than one who is careless in her dress habits or one, perhaps, who neither pleases his eye nor flatters his natural vanity by her attempt to be as much like man generally in manner and appearance as her perverted mind can permit. Yes, there is surely magic in a woman's hat, and clever women know this.

Weight of Liberty Bell

The Liberty bell, which is still preserved at Independence hall, Philadelphia, weighs 2,080 pounds.

RICHARD DIX AND FRANCES HOWARD IN A SCENE FROM THE PARAMOUNT PICTURE "THE SHOCK PUNCH"

"Shock Punch," Starring Richard Dix, a Knockout at New Park on Wednesday and Thursday

Richard Dix has come down from his roost on the steel beams of an unfinished 32-story building in lower Manhattan and everybody at the Paramount Long Island studio is breathing naturally again. For three weeks this up and coming star was filming scenes for his forthcoming picture, "The Shock Punch," on projecting girders that offered a splendid view of New York's harbor and the Statue of Liberty. But the altitude of Dix's vantage-point also gave him unpleasant sensations when his glance happened to drop streetward, with the ever-present danger that his body would follow that glance. However, Dix has completed the last hair-raising stunt, the cameraman has photographed the last thrilling scene, director Paul Sloane has shouted his last order for the picture above the rush of the wind.

The feature at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Wednesday is another inspired creation by Renaud Hoffman. This time the talented young motion picture genius is giving the public a graphic story of the heartaches of the motion picture aspirants that journey to Hollywood in search of fame and fortune.

The new motion picture classic is called "The Legend of Hollywood," and in it Percy Marmont renders one of the greatest characterizations ever seen on the screen. Mr. Marmont portrays the part of an ambitious young writer who gets to Hollywood with the intention of writing scenarios for the motion picture producers. In a boarding house in Hollywood he meets both the successful and the unsuccessful people of the motion picture world. Assembled daily in the dining room are the dashing ingenue, the Character Man, the rising young juvenile, the comedian, and the young girl whose hope of becoming a great star has vanished in bitter disappointment.

"The Ten Commandments" Is a Fast Picture

There's plenty of zip and speed in "The Ten Commandments" which is to be shown for the first time at popular prices on Sunday, Monday Tuesday and Wednesday at the New Park theatre. Starting with the Biblical episode; we have the race of Pharaoh's charioteers across the desert in their pursuit of the escaping Israelites. Going so far as to follow them between the open walls of water where the Red Sea has opened, they are almost on top them, when the waters close, and make a watery grave. Then skipping to the modern, just at the close of the picture, we see the commandment-breaking son in his attempt to escape the police by a dash to Mexico in an open power-launch. These scenes show what real motor-boat speed is. The craft seems to fly through the water, and sible in his non-professional moments. Ever since his arrival in Hollywood to play the masculine lead in George Fitzmaurice's "Tarnish," Colman has been scouring the Southern California mountains in search of a sylvan retreat where he plans to establish his "hermit's home." In company with two other similarly inclined friends, he plans to purchase ground at some remote point in the mountains and there erect a small lodge to which he will be able to retire whenever his screen duties permit.

Colman and his brother "hermits" have agreed that there shall be one law more rigid than the laws of the Medes and Persians to govern their Eve-less Eden:

No woman shall be permitted to set foot in their bachelor paradise under any condition.

NORTH DAKOTA BUYS PRINTING AT HOME

PROVES LARGEST CUSTOMER TO BINDERIES, PUBLISHING HOUSES IN STATE

Bismarck, N. D., Aug. 25. — The state of North Dakota, which buys all its printing at home, is the largest customer of North Dakota binderies and publishing houses, according to statistics compiled by James Curran, state printer.

Curran has charge of letting all the state printing contracts, checks upon the work to see that it is satisfactory, sets the technical requirements which bidders must meet and advises state department heads as to the type of printed work they should employ. He says most of the state contracts are let at low figures and that the heavy volume of the work contributes to economy.

The total bill for the fiscal year of 1924 was $115,497.52. That amount includes the cost of printing the bills and journals for the state legislature, one of the largest items.

Under the present system the state lets only five contracts a year, the work being divided into classes. The first class is the printing of the legislative journals. The third and largest class is the printing of public documents and reports. The fourth is the printing of blanks, circulars, forms and other miscellaneous work incident to carrying on the state government.

When a state official needs some printing he sends his specifications to Curran who orders the work done by the firm holding the contract for the class of work in which the requisition falls. On completion of the work Curran inspects the product and audits the bills to make sure that no overcharge has been made.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

MILWAUKEE GIRL RIVAL OF NEW YORK MISS FOR POLISH TITLE AND GOLD

Henrietta Augustyniewicz, 17-year-old factory worker of Milwaukee, Wis., challenges the claim of Victoria Augustyniewicz, New York stenographer, who has laid a claim to the title of Countess, the city of Lemberg, Poland, and eleven barrels of gold which she declares were seized from a noble ancestor in 1838. The Milwaukee girl does not know the New York claimant but generously declares she will share the "estate" if she is a cousin.

Always stand before a mirror, the larger the better, when adjusting a hat; and, if possible, be sure to use a hand mirror to determine actually the right angle of the hat at back and sides as well as at the front.

Hats, for a long time past, have been worn low or well down on the head, so correct head size is a detail of real importance; and it is hard to say which is the most unfortunate, a head size too large or one too small, when really both are as undesirable as they are unnecessary, if you will choose your hat with care.

It may seem silly and worse to a hard-headed practical man who carelessly jams his hat down on his head and as thoughtlessly removes it to see a woman's painstaking adjustment of a hat; but whether this same man will admit it or not, the appearance of a woman whose hat is right and on right is greatly enhanced. This woman will strike him more pleasantly than one who is careless in her dress habits or, perhaps, who neither pleases his eye nor flatters his natural vanity by her attempt to be as much like man generally in manner and appearance as her perverted mind can permit. Yes, there is surely magic in a woman's hat, and clever women know this.

"Shock Punch," Starring Richard Dix, a Knockout at New Park on Wednesday and Thursday

Richard Dix has come down from his roost on the steel beams of an unfinished 32-story building in lower Manhattan and everybody at the Paramount Long Island studio is breathing naturally again. For three weeks this up and coming star was filming scenes for his forthcoming picture, "The Shock Punch," on projecting girders that offered a splendid view of New York's harbor and the Statue of Liberty. But the altitude of Dix's vantage-point also gave him unpleasant sensations when his glance happened to drop streetward, with the ever-present danger that his body would follow that glance. However, Dix has completed the last hair-raising stunt, the cameraman has photographed the last thrilling scene, director Paul Sloane has shouted his last order for the picture above the rush of the wind.

The feature at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Wednesday is another inspired creation by Renaud Hoffman. This time the talented young motion picture genius is giving the public a graphic story of the heartaches of the motion picture aspirants that journey to Hollywood in search of fame and fortune.

The new motion picture classic is called "The Legend of Hollywood," and in it Percy Marmont renders one of the greatest characterizations ever seen on the screen. Mr. Marmont portrays the part of an ambitious young writer who gets to Hollywood with the intention of writing scenarios for the motion picture producers. In a boarding house in Hollywood he meets both the successful and the unsuccessful people of the motion picture world. Assembled daily in the dining room are the dashing ingenue, the Character Man, the rising young juvenile, the comedian, and the young girl whose hope of becoming a great star has vanished in bitter disappointment.

"The Ten Commandments" Is a Fast Picture

There's plenty of zip and speed in "The Ten Commandments" which is to be shown for the first time at popular prices on Sunday, Monday Tuesday and Wednesday at the New Park theatre. Starting with the Biblical episode; we have the race of Pharaoh's charioteers across the desert in their pursuit of the escaping Israelites. Going so far as to follow them between the open walls of water where the Red Sea has opened, they are almost on top them, when the waters close, and make a watery grave. Then skipping to the modern, just at the close of the picture, we see the commandment-breaking son in his attempt to escape the police by a dash to Mexico in an open power-launch. These scenes show what real motor-boat speed is. The craft seems to fly through the water, and sible in his non-professional moments. Ever since his arrival in Hollywood to play the masculine lead in George Fitzmaurice's "Tarnish," Colman has been scouring the Southern California mountains in search of a sylvan retreat where he plans to establish his "hermit's home." In company with two other similarly inclined friends, he plans to purchase ground at some remote point in the mountains and there erect a small lodge to which he will be able to retire whenever his screen duties permit.

Colman and his brother "hermits" have agreed that there shall be one law more rigid than the laws of the Medes and Persians to govern their Eve-less Eden:

No woman shall be permitted to set foot in their bachelor paradise under any condition.

NORTH DAKOTA BUYS PRINTING AT HOME

PROVES LARGEST CUSTOMER TO BINDERIES, PUBLISHING HOUSES IN STATE

Bismarck, N. D., Aug. 25. — The state of North Dakota, which buys all its printing at home, is the largest customer of North Dakota binderies and publishing houses, according to statistics compiled by James Curran, state printer.

Curran has charge of letting all the state printing contracts, checks upon the work to see that it is satisfactory, sets the technical requirements which bidders must meet and advises state department heads as to the type of printed work they should employ. He says most of the state contracts are let at low figures and that the heavy volume of the work contributes to economy.

The total bill for the fiscal year of 1924 was $115,497.52. That amount includes the cost of printing the bills and journals for the state legislature, one of the largest items.

Under the present system the state lets only five contracts a year, the work being divided into classes. The first class is the printing of the legislative journals. The third and largest class is the printing of public documents and reports. The fourth is the printing of blank circulars, forms and other miscellaneous work incident to carrying on the state government.

When a state official needs some printing he sends his specifications to Curran who orders the work done by the firm holding the contract for the class of work in which the requisition falls. On completion of the work Curran inspects the product and audits the bills to make sure that no overcharge has been made.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

MILWAUKEE GIRL RIVAL OF NEW YORK MISS FOR POLISH TITLE AND GOLD

Henrietta Augustyniewicz, 17-year-old factory worker of Milwaukee, Wis., challenges the claim of Victoria Augustyniewicz, New York stenographer, who has laid a claim to the title of Countess, the city of Lemberg, Poland, and eleven barrels of gold which she declares were seized from a noble ancestor in 1838. The Milwaukee girl does not know the New York claimant but generously declares she will share the "estate" if she is a cousin.

English Writer Tells "Tall" Fish Stories

The winter garden of the Savoy hotel, London, was the scene of a double tragedy a few weeks ago. For many years two goldfish, named Ernest and Eva, made their home in the fountain there. Guests from all parts of the world admired them, for the fish were famous on account of their tricks.

As soon as a cork was put in the water, Ernest would leap over it in a flash of gold, and sometimes would turn a somersault in the air. One day, however, a thoughtless guest flicked some cigar ash into the fountain, and the fish were poisoned.

Another notable goldfish died recently. His name was Peter, and for fourteen years he lived in the garden fountain of St. Andrew-by-the-Wardrobe, London.

Legends of long-lived fish are numerous. One of the most interesting concerns the "Holy Trout of Kilgeever." This fish lived for many years in a well in the west of Ireland. Tradition says that, when French troops landed there more than a century ago, they ran short of food, and certain soldiers decided to have the trout fried for dinner. When they put him on the pan, the trout disappeared up the chimney and found his way back to the well, where he lived for many years.—London Tit-Bits.

Tramp's Quiet Remark Made Big Impression

I remember once two or three of us children had climbed up a high chestnut tree near the gate of our home (reminisces Sir William Orpen in "Stories of Old Ireland and Myself"). A broken-down old tramp was passing painfully along the road, but he stopped when he heard our laughter, and at last detected where we were above him.

"Ah, children," said he, "I would like to be up there with you!"

We laughed still more at the idea of this old man climbing a tree. And one of us said:

"What on earth, old man, do you want to come up here for?"

To which he replied:

"Wouldn't I be nearer to heaven?"

And away he moved on his weary tramp of the roads. But we were very quiet for a bit after what he said.

Testing Gold

To test gold, dig the point of a knife into it, and if it powders it is not gold. Gold is richly yellow, but to tell it from pyrites when in very minute flecks, turn it so that the light catches it from various directions. Gold will not alter in shade, but pyrite does. A drop of nitric acid will cause a fuming on pyrites, but does not affect gold.

You must pan creek sands and gravel to find gold. It may be near the surface, but generally the heaviest deposits of placer gold are on and close to bed rock, which may be a few feet or many feet deep. Gold placers are best found in a big bend in a creek, which allows it to be deposited, or on the upper side of a reef or ledge crossing the stream. Sometimes it is a dry deposit, up where the stream formerly flowed, and is called a "bench" placer.—Victor Shaw, in Adventure Magazine.

Mercury

Mercury is a metallic element existing in a liquid form except when exposed to a very low temperature. It is commonly called quicksilver. It is a metallic element, just as iron or gold is an element, that is, it cannot be subdivided into anything else; but there are many compounds of mercury, that is, mercury in chemical combination with other things such as compounds of mercury and oxygen, mercury and nitrogen, etc. A large part of the world's supply of mercury is obtained in California where ores are found containing mercury in combination with other matter, separated by various chemical processes. Gold dust readily unites with mercury forming an amalgam. The mercury is afterwards removed by distillation.

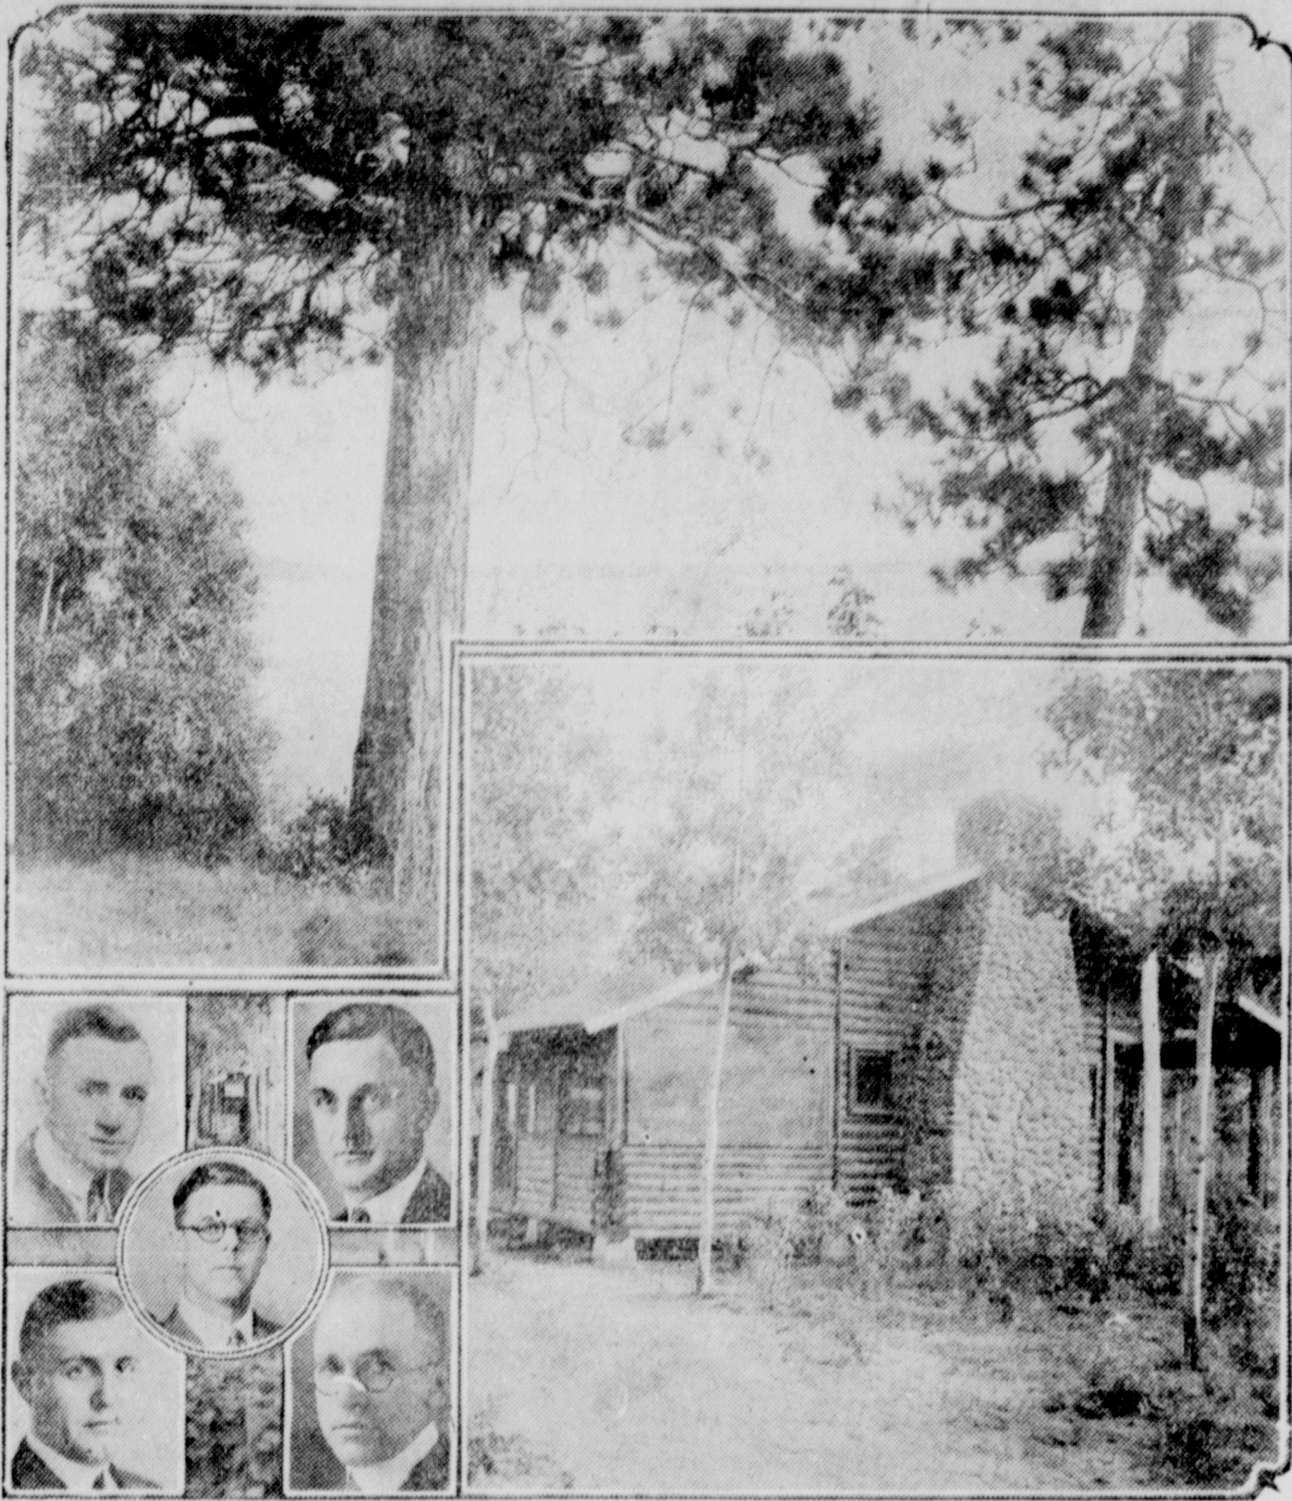

Famous English Regiment

The name "Ironsides" was given to a famous regiment of one thousand horse that served under Oliver Cromwell, in allusion to the iron courage displayed by it at the battle of Marston Moor, 1644. Members of the "Ironsides" were chiefly recruited from the eastern counties of England. They were extremely religious, almost to a man, and enjoyed the proud distinction of never having been defeated in battle. Cromwell said of them in a speech, the year before his death, "truly they were never beaten, but whenever they were engaged against the enemy they beat continually."—Kansas City Star.

Great Christian Creed

The Athanasian creed was one of the three great creeds of Christendom—the two others being the Apostles' creed and the Nicene creed. It derives its name from Athanasius, the opponent of Arius and champion of orthodoxy, by whom it was supposed to have been written. It is the most rigid of three creeds mentioned, and was the standard of orthodoxy during the Middle Ages. It is famous for its so-called "damnable clauses." By many it is thought to have been written by Sergeant Hilary of Arles about 450; some argue for a later date, between 700 and 800, while others pronounce it a forgery.—Exchange.

QUARTER MILLION MONTREAL FIRE

SWEPT WHOLE CITY BLOCK, 250 PEOPLE ARE HOMELESS

(By United Press)
Montreal, Aug. 25.—Fire which, beginning shortly before midnight, swept an entire city block and left 250 homeless in addition to a property damage of $250,000 was brought under control today.

The fire was in the thickly populated section of the east end and one of the structures, a huge ice house, went up in flames that ranged 100 feet into the sky, reddening the entire eastern sky line.

The blaze started in a store house which was filled with old furniture. In a hospital nearby patients were made ready for transfer at any moment, but this was not necessary as the fire was confined to the block in which it originated.

BRAINERD'S SECOND BIG FLOWER SHOW

Opened in Court House Today, Many Fine Dahlias And Gladioli

EXCELLENT EXHIBITS THERE

One of Outstanding Displays is That of L. P. Hall of Bay
Lake

Brainerd's second annual flower show opened today in the court house, with a very good attendance and a fine exhibit of dahlias, gladioli and other garden flowers blooming at this season of the year.

The show is sponsored by the Crow Wing County Garden Flower Society, and in spite of the fact that the past week has been hard on flowers of all kinds, an excellent array has been secured. The hot winds of the past few days have made garden flowers bloom prematurely and in addition have whipped the blooms to such an extent that a large majority are not fit for exhibition purposes.

The flower show is the result of the garden flower society's untiring efforts to carry out the plan of making the city and county beautiful. How well this has been accomplished is evidenced by the exceptionally large number of flowers planted this year, and the big increase in exhibitors this year over last season's show. The interest in the show is apparent from the larger number of people visiting this year, over last, and their familiarity with the various blooms, which was not so much in evidence last year.

L. P. Hall of Bay lake has a large exhibit of both dahlias and gladioli, shown for exhibition purposes only, and not entered for prizes. In his collection of dahlias may be stock from national prize winners, such high-class blooms as the Mariposa, the William Agnew, Judge Mary Ann, the White Sister, and the Champaign, each one a beautiful bloom and each receiving its share of well-earned admiration. The Paul Michael, Jersey Beauty and Jean Chazot are other varieties in Mr. Hall's exhibit that are worthy of mention and well worth seeing.

Mr. Hall's gladioli exhibit includes among other fine specimens, the Purple Glory, Golden Measure, and Alice Terryhill.

Many Out-of-Town Exhibitors
The Brainerd flower show has already won for itself quite a reputation among leading growers in the state, who take pride in exhibiting here annually. Among such exhibitors this year is the Riverview Gardens, of St. Paul, Holm and Olson, of Minneapolis, and Swedberg Brothers, of Battle Lake. These exhibitors, while in the business commercially, do not solicit orders, but any who are interested may give their orders to the representatives at the show for future delivery.

Entries were received this morning until 11 o'clock, and the balance of the morning given over to judging the exhibits. The judges included A. J. Wilkus, of the Riverview Gardens, and Prof. C. E. Carey of the department of horticulture, University Farm.

The garden flower society extends a cordial invitation to all citizens of Brainerd, as well as those from nearby towns and from the rural districts to visit the show on Wednesday, which is the last day of the exhibition. A very successful effort has been made to show what can be accomplished in beautifying the home with flowers, and added impetus can be given this movement, if the public generally attends the show.

CHILD VOCALIST IN CONCERT HERE

There is a treat in store for all who hear Signe Rintala 10 year old Finnish wonder, in concert beginning at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at Finnish hall in Brainerd.

SIGNE RINTALA

The girl has just arrived from Japan and the Far East and the press there, as well as on this coast, has united in praising her. She sings in English, Swedish, Finnish, Danish, Norwegian, German, Estonian and Russian.

The program will include a series of educational pictures dealing with the civil war period in Finland. Ten per cent of the little singer's concert goes to the benefit of war orphans in Finland, and 90 per cent to the musical education of the little singer. The Long Beach press gave the following criticism of her singing:

"This child vocalist has a soprano voice of exquisite sweetness. Her tones are of lyric quality. No matter what language she sings, her enunciation is of bell-like clearness and there is no straining for effect."

There will be dancing after the concert.

There will be pictures of the Civil war in Finland also a musical act refugees from Karelia. The Swedish male chorus glee club will assist in the concert.

AULGER BROS. STOCK CO.

To be at New Park Theatre For The Week of November
2nd

Manager Irwin of the New Park theatre is in receipt of a communication from Augler Brothers stating they are bringing a repertoire of excellent plays to Brainerd this season. They have practically the same company as last year and state that the few changes made are beneficial and have greatly strengthened the cast; also the musical part of the organization. Their repertoire, this season, includes "So This is London," "Meet The Wife," "Lightnin'," "New Brooms," "Outward Bound," "The Bad Man" and "The Brat." Every play in this repertoire has had a Broadway run. Augler Brothers Stock Company was recently reviewed by Carlton Miles, dramatic critic of the Minneapolis Journal and the following is an excerpt of what he had to say: "We watched a performance of "So This is London" that would credit to the average permanent stock company. Not only were the individual roles played well but the performance had tempo and spirit. The diction of each player was admirable. At no time were we able to detect overplaying. The performance was as legitimate and free from obvious tricks as if the players had been appearing on Broadway and the standard of the separate characterizations was unusually good."

Augler Brothers should feel very much elated with the foregoing, coming from a dramatic critic of Mr. Miles' standing. He has an international reputation and is considered one of the finest dramatic critics the nation affords. In the recent John Golden, National Play Contest, Carlton Miles was chosen as one of five judges in the finals; three being from New York, one from Brooklyn and Mr. Miles of Minneapolis.

Whitney

FUNERAL CAR DESCRIBED

First of Its Kind to be Installed in This Section of State

D. E. Whitney has added to his funeral equipment a Sayer-Scovill limousine hearse, the first one to be installed in this section of the state.

This funeral car is built along radically different lines from the regular columnar hearse that has been in vogue in the past. It resembles a large limousine in every respect. There are two doors on each side, the same as any enclosed car, with the addition of door in the rear to admit the casket.

The power plant is a six cylinder red seal Continental motor. The balance of the vehicle is made entirely in the Sayer-Scovill plant. The body is finished in a rich, dark blue, the hood, fenders, wheels, etc., are black. It is equipped with aluminum disc wheels, balloon tires and snubbers.

The Sayer-Scovill company sends only one of any of its models of hearses into a community. This eliminates the danger of having several funeral cars just alike in the same city, and the confusion that might arise therefrom. Mr. Whitney's hearse is called the "Washington" model, and is the first of this model to come into the state. There will be several others used in Minneapolis during the fall, one in Minneapolis and one in Duluth.

The addition of the limousine hearse gives the Whitney funeral parlors one of the best in this section of the state. This summer Mr. Whitney increased his floor space by building a large two-story addition

Limousine Hearse is Purchased by Undertaker D. E. Whitney

FUNERAL CAR DESCRIBED

First of Its Kind to be Installed in This Section of State

D. E. Whitney has added to his funeral equipment a Sayer-Scovill limousine hearse, the first one to be installed in this section of the state.

This funeral car is built along radically different lines from the regular columnar hearse that has been in vogue in the past. It resembles a large limousine in every respect. There are two doors on each side, the same as any enclosed car, with the addition of door in the rear to admit the casket.

The power plant is a six cylinder red seal Continental motor. The balance of the vehicle is made entirely in the Sayer-Scovill plant. The body is finished in a rich, dark blue, the hood, fenders, wheels, etc., are black. It is equipped with aluminum disc wheels, balloon tires and snubbers.

The Sayer-Scovill company sends only one of any of its models of hearses into a community. This eliminates the danger of having several funeral cars just alike in the same city, and the confusion that might arise therefrom. Mr. Whitney's hearse is called the "Washington" model, and is the first of this model to come into the state. There will be several others used in Minnesota during the fall, one in Minneapolis and one in Duluth.

The addition of the limousine hearse gives the Whitney funeral parlors one of the best in this section of the state. This summer Mr. Whitney increased his floor space by building a large two-story addition

BAD LUCK PURSUING GIANTS THIS SEASON

By HENRY L. FARELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Aug. 25.—John McGraw has been through too many campaigns with his New York Giants to cry about bad luck or to alibi his failures, but if he loses the National League pennant this year he could blame the loss on bad luck.

It is not of record that any championship team ever suffered the succession of injuries that wrecked the regular lineup of the Giants from almost the very opening of the season.

Every infielder on the team has been out of the game for a part of the season and Frank Frisch, the sparkling captain of the team, was laid up twice with fractured finger bones.

McGraw learned years ago that injuries were misfortunes of baseball that had to be taken as they came and he has always kept in mind the importance of reserve strength, especially since the introduction of the lively ball, which has made life so much more hazardous for pitchers and infielders.

Before the season started, many smart critics picked the Giants to win their fourth consecutive pennant because McGraw had a team of star regulars and another team on the bench that was almost as good. Nothing, it was pointed out, but an extraordinary run of bad luck could disable the team.

McGraw had plenty of reserves and it was a good thing that he had taken the precaution to recruit a number of first class substitutes, otherwise the team would have sunk into the second division.

It is true that the Giants played some very bad baseball on their last western trip, but even a team under the lash of McGraw could not help but become discouraged with such a continuous run of bad luck.

You can imagine what would have happened to the Washington Senators last year and this year if they had so many injuries as the Giants had this year. You can figure, too, what would have become of the Pittsburgh Pirates this season if they didn't have full strength in most every game and you know how the Cincinnati Reds fared early in the season when they were having a run of bad breaks.

The Athletics had some bad luck when Joe Hauser, a star first baseman, hurt his knee and had to go out for the season and when Sammy Gray, who had won nine games in a row, broke his hand and had to sit on the bench for months. But no team in the league had as many serious accidents as the Giants.

The truth is that today there is but one real backhand in the world, that is, an offensive backhand—Bill Tilden's. Tilden will launch backhand shots any time he wishes that are about as formidable as his forehand drives and here, as much as in his ability to play almost any variety of game, lies the explanation of his greatness.

Johnston, Richards, and all the rest of the stars have their own style of game and are able to vary it only in minor phases, whereas Tilden can vary his strokes so that no opponent can tell precisely what sort of a bound to expect from the balls he drives.

Tilden, for example, long ago discovered just how to handle Johnston's beautiful strokes and "Little Bill" is unable to change to another style of play.

As for the women players, their prevailing type of play this season as in the past is from the back court. If they go to the net at all, they go warily after an exchange of ground strokes. This is the chief reason why their game lags so far behind that of the men in point of brilliancy and strength.

FAWCETT PLANS STRUCTURE FOR INDOOR SPORTS

BOXING PROMOTER CONSIDERS
BUILDING BETWEEN ST. PAUL AND MINNEAPOLIS

SINGLE STRUCTURE TO BE PAT-
TERNERD AFTER NEW MADIS-
SON SQUARE GARDEN

A single structure housing all manner of indoor sports and patterned, on a less pretentious scale, after Tex Rickard's new Madison Square Garden is being contemplated mid-way between St. Paul and Minneapolis by Capt. W. H. Fawcett, head of the Twin Cities Athletic association, which holds the franchise to promote boxing matches in both cities.

The construction of such buildings is being planned in a number of large cities throughout the country since the wide possibilities developed in the architecture of such structures have convinced sports promoters that a sufficient variety of activity can be accommodated to make the venture a profitable one. This perhaps is more true of Minneapolis and St. Paul than of any other city outside New York or Boston because of the long winter season here and the intense interest in an unusually varied sports program.

Fawcett's building will be constructed principally to house big boxing matches but will be so designed that sports on ice, dirt or board floorings, or in the water may all be accommodated. Skating, basketball, track and field, polo, tennis, swimming, bike races and rodeos are only a few of the major sports that can be presented under ideal conditions for both competitors and spectators in buildings which architects have perfected for construction at a moderate cost and capable of holding as many as 12,000 spectators.

It is Fawcett's belief that interest in sports in the Twin Cities is keen enough to assure the success of such a venture.

It is Fawcett's plan to put on an intensive boxing campaign this season as the final test. If the game can be boomed by the presentation of a regular program of matches and restored to the popularity it held a few seasons ago, there will be nothing to deter him from going on with his plans of construction.

Fawcett plans to go east early this fall to inspect similar structures, especially Madison Square Garden, and to consult with architects who specialize in such work. — Minneapolis Tribune.

TRENCH MORTAR EXPLOSION TO
BE INVESTIGATED

(By United Press)
Camp Grant, Ill., Aug. 25.—A military board of inquiry met today to sift the trench mortar explosion on the Camp Grant firing grounds as the death toll mounted to eight.

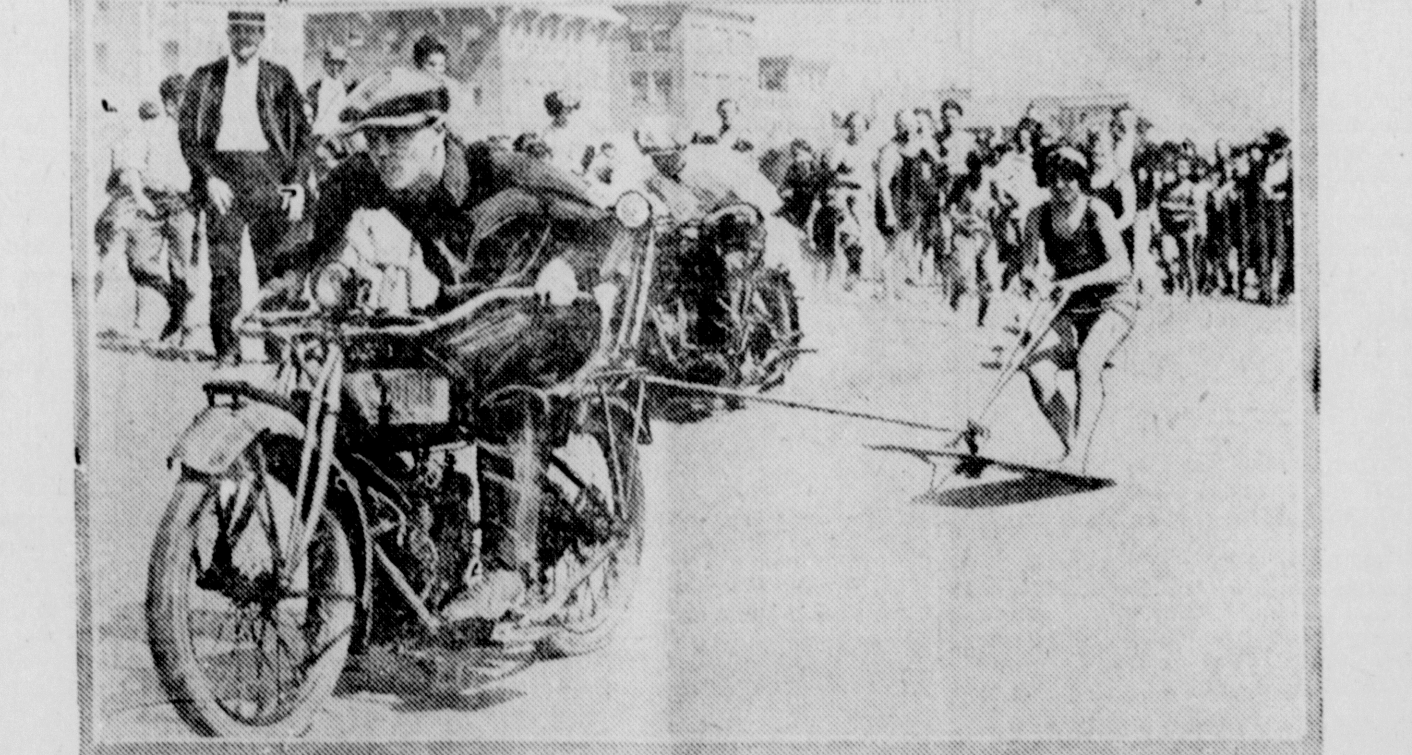

The victims, all members of the 8th Infantry regiment colored, of Chicago, may have been killed as a result of neglect on the part of superior officers, according to a preliminary survey after the explosion.

The board of inquiry, however, will determine whether the accident was unavoidable. Thus far what caused the big shell to explode shortly after being placed in the firing chamber is clothed in mystery.

E. K. Hall, New Editor of The Football Guide

With E. K. Hall, chairman of the rules committee, as the editorial successor of Walter Camp, Spalding's Official Football Guide has made its annual appearance. Physically, the Guide resembles former editions, with all of the detailed information that has made the book so valuable to every follower of the game.

Prefacing the usual articles is a copy of the resolution adopted by the football rules committee on the death of Mr. Camp and an excellent account of Mr. Camp's career, written by Parke H. Davis, which is practically the history of American college football.

As in former years, Mr. Camp's review of the season, published originally in Collier's, is reprinted, followed by the list of leading players of 1924 and reports on the game from every section of the country.

The remainder of the contents comprise records of college games, Parke Davis' compilations of football statistics, list of captains, coaches and managers, schedules for 1925, list of approved officials, and the official text of the revised playing rules, the latter in a convenient detachable form. The illustrations of college teams form an attractive feature of the Guide as well as a historical record of the leading players of the time.

SINGLE STRUCTURE TO BE PATENTED AFTER NEW MADISON SQUARE GARDEN

A single structure housing all manner of indoor sports and patterned, on a less pretentious scale, after Tex Rickard's new Madison Square Garden is being contemplated midway between St. Paul and Minneapolis by Capt. W. H. Fawcett, head of the Twin Cities Athletic association, which holds the franchise to promote boxing matches in both cities.

The construction of such buildings is being planned in a number of large cities throughout the country since the wide possibilities developed in the architecture of such structures have convinced sports promoters that a sufficient variety of activity can be accommodated to make the venture a profitable one. This perhaps is more true of Minneapolis and St. Paul than of any other city outside New York or Boston because of the long winter season here and the intense interest in an unusually varied sports program.

Fawcett's building will be constructed principally to house big boxing matches but will be so designed that sports on ice, dirt or board floorings, or in the water may all be accommodated. Skating, basketball, track and field, polo, tennis, swimming, bike races and rodeos are only a few of the major sports that can be presented under ideal conditions for both competitors and spectators in buildings which architects have perfected for construction at a moderate cost and capable of holding as many as 12,000 spectators.

It is Fawcett's belief that interest in sports in the Twin Cities is keen enough to assure the success of such a venture.

It is Fawcett's plan to put on an intensive boxing campaign this season as the final test. If the game can be boomed by the presentation of a regular program of matches and restored to the popularity it held a few seasons ago, there will be nothing to deter him from going on with his plans of construction.

Fawcett plans to go east early this fall to inspect similar structures, especially Madison Square Garden, and to consult with architects who specialize in such work.—Minneapolis Tribune.

TRENCH MORTAR EXPLOSION TO BE INVESTIGATED

(By United Press)
Camp Grant, Ill., Aug. 25.—A military board of inquiry met today to sift the trench mortar explosion on the Camp Grant firing grounds as the death toll mounted to eight.

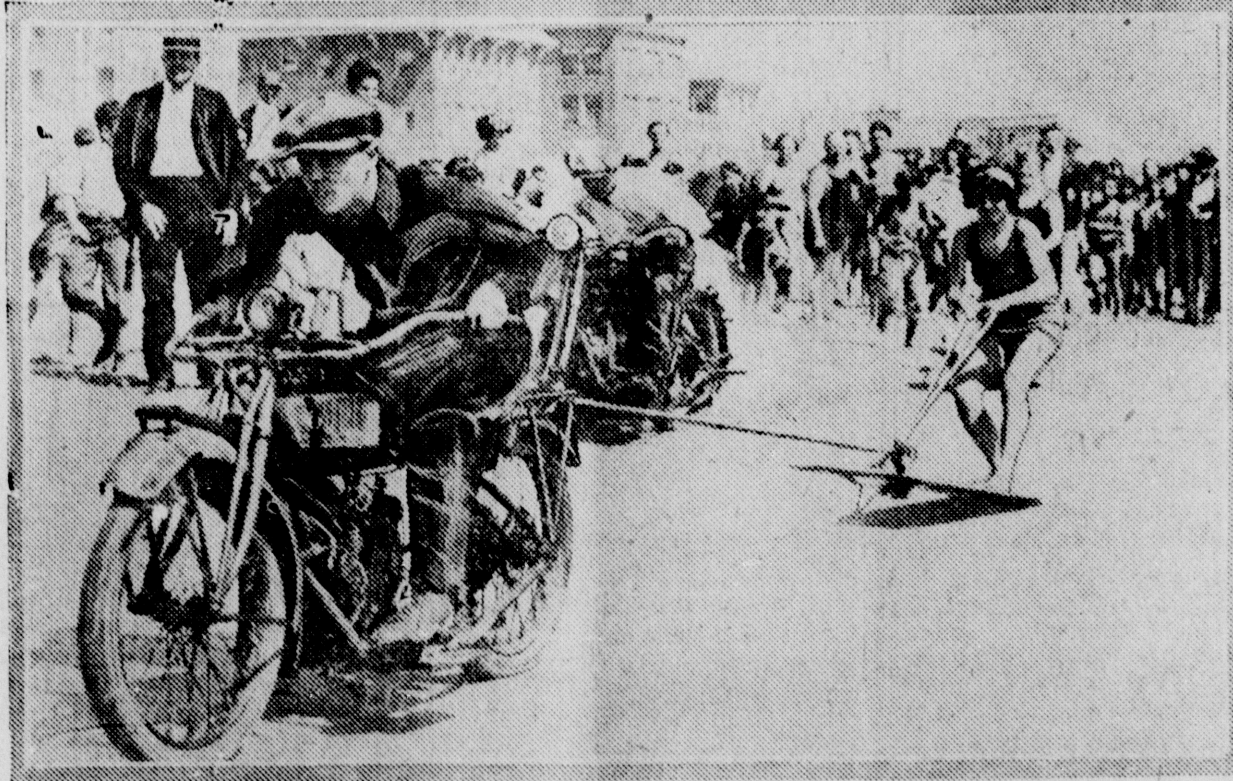

The victims, all members of the 8th Infantry regiment colored, of Chicago, may have been killed as a result of neglect on the part of superior officers, according to a preliminary survey after the explosion.

The board of inquiry, however, will determine whether the accident was unavoidable. Thus far what caused the big shell to explode shortly after being placed in the firing chamber is clothed in mystery.
